Well, what an extremely cold week this has been, despite this we have still enjoyed being outside (after wrapping up) we have enjoyed the ride on toys, the construction area, although it was difficult to dig due to the cold, but they persevered! We explored a tray of water which had turned to ice and explored the new finger trace boards in the sensory garden. As you can see below the children decided to 'walk the plank' to link in with this week's rhyme. Inside we have explore patterns in playdough using seashells, used a shell to listen to the sea, played in the Pirate ship, and made a sailors hat. Time for a rest! See you next week.
