This week the children have loved our topic of Dinosaurs. We have explored dinosaurs in soil and each day added a different media such as pebbles, cones, crepe paper to extend our imagination and exploration. We have also enjoyed listening to dinosaur stories, then we incorporated these into our role play. We have had a go at painting our own dinosaur. We completed dot-to-dot dinosaurs which supported our fine motor development. In PE this week we danced along to 'Dinosaur Stomp' by Koo Koo (have a look on YouTube) the children loved it.

Our pre-school children have spent time developing their scissor control by snipping/cutting unmade jelly - this also supported their senses, talking about the different smells, as well as recalling when they have eaten jelly in the past. The jelly won't go to waste as we will make it up for sensory play next week.

For our Maths Champion we have focused on positional language - playing a hide and seek game with various animals, when found we had to say where they were - under the....on top of.... Etc.

My Happy mind, this week has been about using our Listening ears and recapping on how we can show we are listening.
